

My Favourite Books!!

Divergent (series) by Veronica Roth

I cannot wait for the last book – it comes out in November and is jokingly named 'Detergent'!

Hungry Cities (series) by Philip Reeve

Although the Fever Crumb books are not direct prequels to Hungry Cities, they are set in the same world and provide a lot of the Hungry Cities back story. My favourite book of the series is Mortal Engines.

The Hunger Games (series) by Suzanne Collins

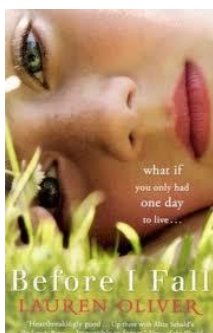

I love these books, especially the first one, and for me the film was a real disappointment because I thought it did not do justice to the story. I also thought that the lead actress was too old at twenty-one to be playing a sixteen-year-old girl.

Gone (series) by Michael Grant

I read the final book in this series, Light, in the Easter holidays and it was absolutely amazing. This is possibly the only series I have read where the books are equally strong - normally I like the first one best.

Before I Fall by Lauren Oliver

This book is amazing and I have read it (like the others mentioned) at least 4 times. It is a story of second chances, the ability to put things right before you die. It is my favourite book that is not in a series – by nature it can have no sequel.
